

To Whom it may concern,

I am a parent of a child who has been a client of BESB for over 12 years. I found out she was blind at nine months old. While she was in birth to three, BESB was with us. Helping me learn how to help my daughter. She is now thirteen years old, BESB is still with us, they are helping me and her teachers learn ways to help my daughter. They have made a major impact on our lives, without the undivided support of this agency my daughter would not have been able to accomplish as much as she has.

To dismantle something that has worked for over a hundred and eighteen years is disgraceful. Why do you want to mess with the one thing that is helping my child become the adult that she can be?
